Hit-and-run case atop Chamundi Hill

- CCTV visuals of vehicle captured at Columbia Asia Hospital signal
- Police now intensify search on Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway

Mysuru, July 10 (MTY&BCT)- The Hyundai Creta that killed 21-year-old M.C. Namana and Aravinda Rao atop Chamundi Hill on the night of July 5 (Thursday) left the city the very next day. A visual captured by a CCTV camera has spotted the vehicle speeding on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway.

Police sources told Star of Mysore that the SUV was spotted on the Highway at Columbia Asia Hospital signal and the CCTV cameras installed in the area have captured the visuals at 9.45 am on July 6. But the visuals have not been able to capture the registration number of the vehicle.

The Creta had collided with Aravinda Rao's bike near the Watch Tower Junction atop Chamundi Hill on Thursday evening.

While Aravinda died the same day when being shifted to a hospital, Namana, who was riding pillion, was declared brain dead a day later. Her vital organs were harvested and a 'green corridor' was created on July 7 between Mysuru and Bengaluru to transport the organs.

The Police had recovered a piece of the bumper of the vehicle and the side-view mirror from the accident spot and even the CCTV visuals have captured the movement of the SUV with the damaged side-view mirror. The visuals also display one side of the vehicle that is scratched and the Police have said that the SUV could have brushed the side of the wall atop the Chamundi Hill at the time of the accident.

Aravinda Rao

Namana

Sources said that after the accident on July 5, the occupants of the vehicle stayed in Mysuru and left towards Bengaluru as they would have read in the newspapers on July 6 that Aravinda Rao was dead.

The Police are now focussing on areas including Srirangapatna, Mandya, Maddur, Ramanagaram and Bengaluru to trace the Creta. "We have already formed four teams to trace the killer vehicle and we have informed all the jurisdictional Police to zero-in on the vehicle and also scan CCTV visuals," a Police officer said.

Road Safety Month

Cops crackdown on violators

Mysuru, July 10 (RK&BCT)- Traffic violators, beware. The City Police have launched a special and intensive drive to book traffic offenders on city roads. The drive was launched on July 1 as part of the State-wide Traffic Safety Month where the Cops have been given a free hand to book cases, collect fines and also seize vehicles if need be. Police sources said that each traffic Police Station has been given a target to catch offenders.

Dr. Vikram Amathe

Along with common violations like drunken-driving, driving without licence, riding without helmet, triple riding, parking at no parking zones, driving without safety belts and defective number plates and speaking over mobile phones while driving, the Police are also booking cases against those who ride or drive at high speed.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Deputy Commissioner of Police (Crime and Traffic) Dr. Vikram V. Amathe said July is observed as Traffic Management and Road Safety Month and they had got instructions from their headquarters in Bengaluru to launch an enforcement-cum-awareness drive till July 31.

Fall of film world

Not a single guest of honour called upon to speak for a couple of minutes before a full-house of audience comprising people across all age groups and socio-economic background during the programme to present popular songs featured in Kannada movies of bygone years and telecast for 30 minutes from 10 pm five days a week by Chandana, the Kannada channel of Doordarshan misses to recollect the now-vanished top quality of songs of that past era, highlighting both melody part of the songs and also the refinement of the literary aspect of the lyrics. The well-informed speakers also make it a point to lament on the dismal fall in these qualities of songs and overall fall of the film world on all counts except glitter and glitz drawn from advanced technologies emerging in our times. Commerce has clearly stumped the outlook of film-makers playing to the gallery as it were.

Kannada film industry, which has come to be referred to as Sandalwood, is currently the fifth largest film industry in the country, judged by box-office performance, producing more than 200 motion pictures annually. Thanks to the presence of Kannadigas in other countries across the world, Kannada movies are released and viewed in about 60 countries abroad. While the greats of Kannada cinema produced more than 50 years ago were legends in their own lifetime, their counterparts of cinema of our times are dubbed as celebrities.

Kannada cinema, with a history of more than eight decades, owes its past glory mainly due to three factors, (a) The land's epics with their rich and inexhaustible repertoire of absorbing episodes providing the storyline, (b) The well-established theatre personalities appearing on the silver screen and (c) The refined tastes of connoisseurs of movies of the past era. The galaxy of actors, actresses, singers, directors and producers of Kannada movies immortalised themselves drawing people of all age groups to the shows of the movies, unlike movies of our times which the senior citizens would religiously stay away from the show houses.

The issue of the none-too-happy plight of today's Kannada cinema landed in the Karnataka Legislative Council last week. Apart from speaking some platitudes by the elected representatives of people and the usual plea for government action to restore the past quality standards of Kannada cinema, nothing concrete seems to have resulted from the debates. In short, the viewers of motion pictures get the films they seem to be relishing. For producers, it ought to be return on investment.

The leader has also stopped using the elevator at his apartment complex where he lives in the capital of his home State. At the State Bhawan in Delhi, he now takes the stairs to his third floor room, which has had the added benefit of getting him much-needed exercise.*

Bakery creates 'Game of Thrones' cake

Dubai: Broadway Bakery, in Dubai, recently celebrated the new season of 'Game of Thrones' by creating an incredibly detailed cake. Made primarily of sugar paste and fondant, the edible masterpiece stands four feet4 ft. tall and weighs 31.75 kgs, making it large enough to feed a crowd of 100 – 120 people.

The edible swords that make up the Iron Throne had to be shaped and painted individually, before assembling the iconic chair,. All in all, it took two expert cake artists accompanied by a team of 18 talented chefs working over a period of three weeks to finish the cake.

The sugar paste and fondant were covered in 15 kg of the finest Belgian chocolate and the gold goblet in Tyrion's hand, as well as the artistic motif on his shirt were actually painted in 28 grams of edible gold. This raised the cost of the cake to a staggering 91,800 dirham ($27,000).

People loved it and got shared so much that Kevin Hart himself saw it and publicly congratulated Allan on his work.

Untimely TTE intervention in Kaveri Express

Sir,

A month ago, I travelled in the infamous S6 coach of Kaveri Express to Chennai. I experienced two kinds of problems during this journey.

Firstly, the coach brake makes a lot of jerky sound every time the train tries to stop. And this happens very frequently all through the journey. It defeats the purpose of preferring to travel by a sleeper coach and night train. Hope this mechanical signal which may be a symptom of a major problem is set right soon.

Secondly, the ticket inspection is carried out only after train leaves Bengaluru Station and this is after 11.30 pm. When passengers have finished dinner and are trying hard to get some sleep despite the jerky movement and harsh sound, comes the pushing hand of the TTE past the midnight. This is quite annoying especially to senior citizens.

This is totally avoidable if the Railways deploy TTE right at Mysuru. I request the authorities to seriously consider these issues.

Urban greening initiative...

Tree Lovers Club plants 700 saplings at Vijayanagar

Mysuru, July 10- The newly-floated Tree Lovers Club, Vijayanagar, planted around 700 saplings including fruit-bearing indigenous trees in Vijayanagar 3rd Stage on Sunday last.

The Club, an offshoot of Vekare Ex-Servicemen Trust (VKET), will take up urban greening and promote it by example and through public campaigns.

Speaking to SOM, VKET and Tree Lovers Club President Mandetira N. Subramani said that it is the responsibility of every citizen to take care of the ecology and environment around their neighbourhood, first by planting a couple of fruit-bearing saplings in places wherever it is feasible. Subsequently, it should be the individual's responsibility to nurture them after their maintenance for five years till they grow at least 15 feet in height.

He said, it is the collective responsibility of the residents and NGOs to take the initiative to impress upon the Forest Department to plant more saplings.

He further mentioned that the Tree Lovers Club will accomplish its mission of apprising the Chief Conservator of Forests in Mysuru to plant over 5,000 different species of saplings including fruit-bearing trees in Vijayanagar 1st, 2nd, 3rd & 4th Stages.

Vice-President Shakunthala Subramani, Gen. Secretary A.B. Bojappa, Jt. Secretary Poornima Raghu, Treasurer S. Somashekara and Hon. Advisor P.S. Bose Subramani led the morning walkers and residents of Vijayanagar 3rd Stage, numbering over 150, in planting the saplings.

Addressing the gathering after planting over 25 fruit-bearing trees in the Park opposite Heritage Club, the Tree Lovers Club President thanked the participants, members of Brahmagiri Kodava Association and Heritage Club for giving moral support to the Club in accomplishing the greening initiative. Tree Lovers Club intends to adopt the Park in Vijayanagar 3rd Stage for development and maintenance after obtaining the consent of authorities concerned.

Speaking on the occasion, A.B. Bojappa said that the Club would form a Committee of Tree Lovers to look after the saplings already planted in Vijayanagar 3rd Stage in the past one week.

The Secretary also requested those present to give their suggestions to improve the ecology of Vijayanagar 3rd Stage via e-mail: tree.lovers@yahoo.com or infowicket@gmail.com

HC stays ban on White Water River Rafting in Kodagu

Bengaluru, July 10- The Karnataka High Court, on July 6, stayed an order by the Deputy Commissioner of Kodagu preventing river rafting activities in Kodagu. The petition was filed by a rafting licence holder.

The District Administration and several licence holders are engaged in legal battles over the issue for the last several months and the Madikeri Sessions Court is hearing the cases. The High Court has directed the Sessions Court to dispose of the case within three months.

In March this year, Kodagu Deputy Commissioner P.I. Sreevidya had banned river rafting activity and white water rafting across the district for one month and subsequently extended the ban. In her order, the DC stated that there were many adventure organisations and home stays running river rafting activities without permission.

The DC issued the orders in the wake of several complaints from the tourists and villagers that adventure activity organisers have no expertise in river rafting and some of them are organising such events just to make money. Mandatory safety measures are not being followed by the organisers and lives are at stake, the tourists complained.

It may be recalled here that a tourist from Hyderabad had got into an argument with an organiser of river rafting in Dubare on Feb.15 and was killed in the ensuing altercation. It had come to the notice of the District Administration that many organisers of the adventure sport submitted fake documents to the DC and there was a no match between the permission letters and the submitted letter.

One B.C. Madaiah, a resident of Nanjarayapatna village in Somwarpet taluk, had approached the High Court against the order of the DC. He had earlier approached the Sessions Court in Madikeri which refused to grant a stay on the DC's order.

Madaiah contended that he was a licence holder and also had No Objection Certificates to conduct river rafting activities in Cauvery River from different departments. The DC, however, considering that river rafting was a dangerous game and that there was no scheme for granting licence, prevented all such activities. The DC also directed the constitution of a 'River Rafting Committee' for the purpose of giving licences for river rafting.

Hearing Madaiah's plea, the HC said that the Sessions Court should have stayed the DC's order. The Court observed: "Till the point of time, the validity of the order of the Deputy Commissioner is tested by the learned Sessions Judge, on the basis of legal and factual aspects, in my opinion, the learned Sessions Judge ought to have granted the interim order of stay as prayed for."

The HC issued interim stay on the order of the DC till the case in the Sessions Court was disposed of. It directed the Sessions Judge "to expedite the matter itself and dispose of the same as expeditiously as possible within three months from the date of receipt of a copy of this order."

Criminalisation of homosexuality

SC begins hearing pleas on Section 377 of IPC

New Delhi, July 10- A five-judge Constitution Bench of the Supreme Court began hearing petitions against Section 377 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) that makes homosexuality a crime. Yesterday, a Bench of Chief Justice Dipak Misra, Justice D.Y. Chandrachud and Justice A.M. Khanwilkar had dismissed the Centre's plea for adjourning today's hearing. The Centre wanted some more time to file its response to the pleas on gay sex.

The Court, however, noted that since the case has been awaiting the hearing for some time, the Centre should have filed its response on PILs. Besides, Chief Justice Dipak Misra, Justice Chandrachud and Justice Khanwilkar, Justice Rohinton Fali Nariman and Justice Indu Malhotra will comprise the constitution bench established to hear the matter.

In December 2013, the apex court had criminalised sexual relationship between consenting adults of the same sex by setting aside the Delhi High Court's July 2, 2009 judgment, which had decriminalised it. The HC had held Section 377 of IPC "illegal."

In the wake of the SC verdict, review petitions were filed. When they were dismissed, curative petitions were filed. The SC had referred several PILs filed by NGO Naz Foundation and eminent citizens challenging the 2013 verdict to a constitution bench.

What is Section 377?

Section 377 refers to "unnatural offences. Whoever voluntarily has carnal intercourse against the order of nature with any man, woman or animal, shall be punished with [imprisonment for life], or with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to ten years, and shall also be liable to fine."

Who filed PILs against the SC ruling?

The SC had on Jan.8 agreed to re-examine its verdict upholding Section 377 while noting that "a section of people or individuals who exercise their choice should never remain in a state of fear." Maintaining that Section 377 was "violative of fundamental rights under the Constitution's Article 21 (right to life)," the petition, which led to Jan.8 orders, was filed by celebrity chef Ritu Dalmia, Sangeet Natak Akademi awardee Bharatanatyam dancer Navtej Singh Johar, and others.

In April, Lalit Suri Hospitality group Managing Director Keshav Suri, who is also an LGBT (lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender) rights activist, filed a PIL in the SC challenging the Section 377's constitutional validity.

Police barricade protects sunk manhole on Dhanvantri Road

MCC continues to neglect sinking manholes

Mysuru, July 10 (MK&NNN)- The manhole near the Chidambareshwara Temple on the ever busy Dhanvantri Road has sunk and looks like it is ready to claim lives.

The vehicles are also parked on one side of the road. If the tyre of a vehicle gets stuck into the manhole then it will cause problems not only to the driver but could also lead to traffic snarls.

Those going to K.R. Hospital and Cheluvamba Hospital use this road. In the darkness the chances of pedestrians stepping into the manhole and endangering their lives is very high.

It has been many days since the manhole has sunk and now it is filled with garbage. When it rains, the sewage water overflows on the road. The Police, seeing that the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) is not doing anything have barricaded the spot. But there is no way they can stop the stink emanating from it. Since the Police keep such places with barricades, the MCC continues to neglect it as they feel that the problem has been solved.

There is one more such manhole near the old Jawa factory and the underpass where the barricade has been put to cover the manhole. The manhole is at an elevated place and if three or four vehicles converge from all sides then it becomes a problem to negotiate. Also the barricade keeps falling.

Does the MCC always need reminders from the public to do its job is the question that the taxpaying citizens of the Heritage City ask.

Snail's pace of work

The manhole repair work on the busy Bengaluru-Nilgiri Road near Lido Theatre is going on at a snail's pace. All the buses going to the Suburban Bus Stand pass through this road.

It is more than 15 days since the manhole sunk. But nothing has been done so far. Even though the MCC did start the work the very next day after a news about this was published recently, the pace of the work is very slow. Authorities concerned, in the interest of the public should be completed at the earliest.

PWD takes up development work from Hootagalli to KRS Road

Villagers threaten stir if quality of roadwork not satisfactory

The development work in progress on Hootagalli Road. Picture right shows villagers urging the PWD officials to take up quality work.

Mysuru, July 10 (SBD&NNN)- The villagers of Hootagalli have warned of launching an agitation if the quality of road works taken up by the Public Works Department (PWD) from Hootagalli Signal to KRS Road is not met.

The 1,900 metre four-lane road work from Hootagalli Signal and the 300 metre two-lane road work passing through Basappa Road and touching KRS Road is going on at a cost of Rs. 5 crore. This includes the work on drainage, footpaths and shifting of electric poles.

Already, the first stage of the work is going on near Hootagalli. However, social workers, Hootagalli leaders and the villagers allege that the quality of work is very poor.

The villagers feel that the survey should have been done first and then the required space for the drain should have been left from the middle of the road.

Since the work on the drainage has already begun, there is very little space left for the footpath. If the work is haphazardly finished, then it will inconvenience the pedestrians, the villagers said.

"A lot of encroachment has already happened on this stretch. I have taken the details about the road development works under Right to Information (RTI) Act. The works should progress in an orderly manner," said RTI activist Ravi.

First the survey should be done and asphalting work in the middle of the road should be finished and then the drainage work should be taken up. If they continue with the work, then we will launch an agitation, he threatened.

Reacting to the allegations of the villagers, PWD Assistant Executive Engineer Raju said that the road work has been taken up at a cost of Rs. 5 crore. The villagers are alleging that the government property has been encroached and we have informed the Revenue Department. The surveyor has already started the work.

The work will be taken up in stages and now the work on the drainage is going on. The footpath work will be taken up after the Revenue Department gives its opinion, the he added.

However, the villagers demand that the encroachment must first be removed as it would not be prudent to redo the work after succumbing to the pressures of the powers that be.

Why ISRO 'Spy Case' is important

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

It is sickening to learn that a scientist working on a nationally important project became a victim of cunning politicians (Congress leader Oommen Chandy used the ISRO case to get rid of the then Congress Chief Minister), and scheming Police Officers (a DGP used the case to malign another officer who stood in the way of his promotion). Nambi Narayanan lost his career, but recovered his honour.

India's biggest achievement since independence is its march to leadership ranks in space technology. In June last year, the national space organisation, ISRO, put into space a rocket as heavy as 200 fully grown elephants, making it a major player in the satellite launch industry alongside the US, France and Russia.

The pioneers, who prepared the ground for this great leap forward, were Homi Babha and Vikram Sarabhai, men of impeccable scientific credentials. Bhabha pioneered nuclear research while Sarabhai focussed on space and rocketry. Both had the nuclear bomb at the back of their minds, according to Ready to Fire, the important and moving book by Nambi Narayanan, the ISRO scientist who pioneered cryogenic technology in India at great personal cost.

Sarabhai had developed close contacts, says Nambi, with Armin Dadieu, the German rocket engineer. (Germany's V-2 rocket, symbol of its space technology leadership, had stunned Britain in World War II). He also knew Itokawa, specialist on Japan's pencil rocket. Nambi writes: "With faith in the Japanese wisdom on onboard-control systems and the German mastery over fabrication, both not allowed by the US to be put to use by those countries, Sarabhai was trying to forge a deadly brotherhood. The US was ostensibly unhappy."

Then, at 56, Bhabha died in an aircrash in Switzerland in 1966. At 52, Sarabhai died in a hotel room in Trivandrum in 1971 for no apparent reason. In 1994, when ISRO was close to mastering cryogenic technology on its own after having been obstructed by the US, Nambi Narayanan and Sasikumar were arrested, tortured and virtually destroyed by Kerala Police in the notorious ISRO spy case. Nambi, a man of almost superhuman willpower, went through it for four years before he could go to the Supreme Court which declared him and others as innocent.

It all started with a Kerala Police Inspector eyeing a six-foot Maldivian woman. Spurned by her, he set out to get her tied up in legal knots, then found an opportunity to file spying charges against her. The case quickly became a cause celebre used by multiple agencies for multiple purposes. The end result, as summed up by Kumar Chellappan in a 2013 article, was that the case "not only finished the careers of India's two exceptionally brilliant space scientists, but also put the country's cryogenic engine development on hold for more than 19 years."

Nambi Narayanan's account of the drama, subtitled How India and I survived the ISRO spy case, fills us with equal parts of pride and shame. Sarabhai's vision and the dedication of his team of scientists make up an inspiring episode of recent history. It makes us feel that we are a people who can achieve anything if only the dreamers are given a free hand. The next moment, though, reality makes us feel ashamed — the reality that we will never do well because of the dishonesty and crookedness of those who are in positions of power.

Kerala Police, known for its love of third-degree methods and the selfishness of some of its officers, played a dastardly role in the spy case. The CBI itself rejected all its findings and case diaries which "reflect adversely on the methods and intentions of the investigating officers of the Kerala Police."

One bows in awe before Nambi Narayanan, who withstood the cruelties of the sadistic Police which Sasikumar could not. The first blow landed when they asked him to give the name of a Muslim friend and he, quite honestly, gave the name of his colleague A.P.J. Abdul Kalam. For more than 30 hours he was made to stand, answering questions, taking beatings. When he asked for water, the answer was: "You third-rate criminal, you want water?"

This astonishing man gathered strength by telling himself, "I cannot let down Sarabhai, my father, my gurus and myself." As he puts it: "I took deep breaths and stood my ground. I spoke. 'You guys are committing a big crime, and you will be punished for this'. "

It is sickening to learn that a scientist working on a nationally important project became a victim of cunning politicians (Congress leader Oommen Chandy used the ISRO case to get rid of the then Congress Chief Minister), and scheming Police Officers (a DGP used the case to malign another officer who stood in the way of his promotion). Nambi Narayanan lost his career, but recovered his honour. May his tribe increase and may he succeed in getting just dessert for those Police tormentors found guilty by the CBI itself.

Making a difference in farmers' lives

Retired Forest Officer shows the way...

By N. Niranjan Nikam

Plant, nourish and flourish' is the mantra of this 80-year-old former Forest and Environment Secretary A.C. Lakshmana.

The multi-pronged and highly beneficial project to the State that he advocates especially in the wake of farmers' loan burden, increasing poverty and suicides is very important to overcome these tragic conditions.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Lakshmana said, "I strongly advocate 'Agri-Silvi-Horticulture' method which I have successfully experimented since the last 22 years."

Pointing to the tree in the park in front of his house in Gokulam, he said, "This tree Hebbevu (Melina Dubia) was planted six years ago and see how tall it has grown. I am now encouraging the farmers all over the State to grow this species along with other crops."

Asked about the Israeli method of farming that the present government is flaunting as the panacea for all farmers' problems, he said that micro and drip irrigation has been practiced in a few regions in the Nagarhole and surrounding Hunsur belt for many years already.

For instance, the growing of tobacco is banned from 2019, bamboo can be grown as one of the components that will help in 33 per cent increase in water for borewells apart from other benefits, he said.

Flagship programme

The flagship programme is the planting of Hebbevu which the farmers from other parts of Karnataka are also trying to emulate.

Lakshamana has been working with farmers from North Karnataka including Bijapur, Belagavi, Raichur, Bidar, Ballari, Haveri, Bagalkot, Shivamogga and other areas. "All that the farmers need is Rs.50,000 subsidy to plant Hebbevu and their lives will change," he said.

A file photo of former Forest and Environment Secretary A.C. Lakshmana (in suit) with the farmers, industrialists and Forest staff.

Reiterating his stand, a farmer from Haveri, Basavaraju, a commerce graduate, whom Star of Mysore spoke to over the phone said, "After coming in contact with Lakshmana Sir, I have planted nearly 2,500 Hebbevu trees in my eight acres land. I also grow maize, chillies, sugarcane and other crops. Hebbevu helps in absorbing moisture and also controls pollution."

Another farmer, Ahmed Patel, from Kadani village in Kalaburagi District, who grows sunflower, jowar, potatoes, tomatoes in his 11 acre land, told Star of Mysore that he had come all the way from Kalaburagi to Mysuru and taken 500 Hebbevu saplings from Lakshmana and planted them on Nov. 1 last year.

"In nine months it has grown to six feet and the girth is eight to ten inches. Now the Kalaburagi Forest Department itself is supplying Hebbevu saplings and this was because of the initiative taken by Lakshmana. Now, I do not have to come all the way to Mysuru to get the saplings again. I plan to plant another 500 saplings shortly."

On whether he had taken any crop loan, he said that he had taken a loan of Rs. 1.20 lakh. But was not sure whether it would be waived off going by the way discussions were happening in the government. "The bank people tell me that since I had not renewed the loan agreement twice, I might not be eligible to get loans again."

'Calamus lakshmanae'

Lakshmana, who is also the Chairman of Devaraj Urs Bidiru Vana, promotes cultivation of bamboo and even one cane is named after him called 'Calamus lakshmanae' in honour of his dedicated pioneering conservation and development work.

"There is funds in the Bidiru Vana but I have no powers to do anything. I am just a Barefoot Chairman. In fact when I spoke to H.K. Patil, former Minister of Rural Development and Panchayat Raj, I frankly told him, 'you are not supportive of my ideas like your father K.H. Patil.' And now he has called for a meeting on July 12 to discuss about the problems of North Karnataka and its farmers."

When the farmers in North Karnataka whom Lakshmana is in touch heard about this meeting, they all promised to join him to impress upon the former Minister about the agri-silvi-horticulture method of farming and its success.

"The Western Ghats Task Force was set up more than ten years ago. I am prepared to work here and all I ask is a monthly honorarium of Re. 1. The only reason I want to take up this assignment is to see that I can make a difference to the farmers' lives." he said.

"I strongly believe in the philosophy, greater the participation greater the success and according to me the formula is I=we=team=stakeholders. Behind the success of 'Vanathotagarike'' there are many individuals and groups. Government support is a must for such highly complex work," he signs off.

Ex-Speaker warns of more distress for farmers

Mysuru, July 10 (MK&DM)- Regretting the decline in service mindedness among youth and students, former Assembly Speaker Krishna has observed that the current generation needs proper guidance on social service and human values.

He was speaking at 'Attiguppe Geleyara Balaga' inaugural function organised at Vidyaranyapuram Vokkaligara Sangha here on Sunday.

Bemoaning that money has overtaken any other things in life, Krishna said that these days only the rich were being felicitated, while social workers and activists are being ignored.

Underlining the need for properly guiding the youth, he expressed concern over 'Mummy-Daddy' culture creeping even to villages.

Observing that the day may not be far off when distressed farmers have to end life, unable to bear the fees in private schools, he highlighted the role of teachers in educating the children on the way forward in enriching our heritage and culture.

National Education Awardee Dr. A.C. Sannaswamygowda was felicitated on the occasion.

Attiguppe Geleyara Balaga President A.M. Shyamesh, Jainhalli Sathyanarayanagowda, Padmesh, Vijaykumar and others were present.

Thalassery-Mysuru Railway line via South Kodagu

MP meets CM; requests him not to approve project

Mysuru, July 10 - Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha met Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy in Bengaluru this morning and requested him not to bow to pressures from the Kerala Government regarding the proposed Thalassery-Mysuru Railway line that will pass through lush green forests in South Kodagu.

In a letter to Kumaraswamy, Pratap Simha said that it was clear that by pushing the environmentally-destructive project, the Kerala Government was aiming at destroying the land and eco-space of Kodagu. The project will destroy over two lakh trees and will pass through 65 kilometres of green belt in Kodagu, he said.

"The project is opposed by Karnataka and we elected representatives (MLAs and MP of Kodagu), residents of Kodagu and environmental activists have made our stand clear that the project will not be allowed at any cost. Still, the Kerala government is insisting on the project that will literally destroy the Nagarahole National Park through which the line passes," Simha told Kumaraswamy.

MP Pratap Simha is seen discussing with CM H.D. Kumaraswamy in Bengaluru this morning as MLA L. Nagendra looks on.

Pointing out that the systematic cutting of trees to implement projects in Kodagu over the years has led to deficient rainfall and depletion of water in River Cauvery, Simha told the CM that the project will only benefit Kerala and the people of Kodagu and Karnataka would pay a heavy price for it.

"In the Cauvery River catchment area, spread over Western Ghats including parts of Kodagu, several projects such as two Railway lines and a couple of National Highways, are in the offing and all of them are destructive to forest ecosystems, and that too benefiting only the adjoining Kerala State," Simha said.

Responding positively to the MP, the CM told him that he would look into the issue and will consider the representation.

Roll back Zoo entry fee hike: Hoteliers Association

Mysuru, July 10 (PM&DM)- The Mysuru Hotel Owners Association has strongly condemned the Mysuru Zoo entry fee hike.

Addressing a press meet at Patrakarthara Bhavan here this morning, the Association President C. Narayana Gowda said that the huge hike in entry fee, on weekends and public holidays, has been a burden on the visitors and tourists. Also, there has been a hike in vehicle parking fee and as well as the fee for battery operated vehicles inside the Zoo, he said.

Pointing out that the entry fee hike of Rs. 20 for adults and Rs. 10 for children on weekends and public holidays was unjustifiable, he urged the Zoo authorities to roll back the hike in the larger interest of tourists.

C.Narayana Gowda

Narayana Gowda also criticised the KSRTC's policy of hiking fares on weekends and festival seasons.

Terming the KSRTC's proposal on fare hike as arbitrary, he urged the KSRTC authorities to drop the proposal and continue with usual fares.

He also took strong exception to the MCC's unscientific stipulation of Building Tax for commercial structures.

Association office-bearers Ravi Shastri, Ugraiah, Subramanya Tantri and others were present.

"Every traffic station has been asked to crack down on offences including speed-racers and free-wheeling. Dangerous driving, apart from injuring the offender, also puts other vehicle users to risk. We have been tracking such offenders every day and bringing them to book. Apart from levying fines, we will also seize vehicles if the violations are serious in nature," DCP Dr. Vikram Amathe said.

Teams of Traffic Cops are keeping a close watch on vehicles in Central Business District and roads including Mahadevapura Road, Nelson Mandela Road, Ring Road, Manandavadi Road and Udayagiri where youngsters often race against each other, he added.

Traffic offences are on the rise and the month-long campaign aims at creating awareness. Cases of drunken-driving, driving without safety belts and without helmets will be booked every day throughout July.

The campaign also aims at replacing signal lights, CCTV cameras, damaged sign boards and barricades, the DCP said. Awareness campaigns will be held in schools and colleges, IT companies and other firms to spread the message.

"As part of the campaign, we have identified 10 blind spots in the city that cause frequent accidents and are discussing the issue with the Departments concerned on how to prevent accidents. We are also visiting hospitals to check the trauma centres and ICUs. We are telling the hospital authorities to accord priority to treat accident victims," Dr. Vikram said.

Government to expedite 6-lane Bengaluru-Mysuru Highway

Bengaluru, July 10- PWD Minister H.D. Revanna has said that the Government will fast-track six-laning (8 lanes including 2 service roads) of the busy Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway.

Replying to a question by MLC Sandesh Nagaraj in the Legislative Council this morning, Revanna said that 64 percent of land has been acquired, while 36 percent is yet to be acquired, for which a special officer will be appointed.

Pointing out that the works will be completed in two phases — one of Rs. 3,501 crore and the other of Rs. 2,919.81 crore, the PWD Minister said that measures will be taken to ensure completion of all the works within the stipulated time.

The Forest Department personnel had placed a cage in the farm and had kept the carcass of the dog inside it to lure the leopard. The leopard walked into the cage last night. DFO Vinay Kumar, ACF Somappa and RFO Shanthakumara Swamy visited the spot. The leopard was later released into Nagarahole National Park.

Kabini Dam full for second time

Nanjangud, July 10 (RS& NNN)- It is for the second time in a week this year that the water in Kabini dam has reached the maximum level of 2,292 feet. The inflow is 35,800 cusecs and the outflow is 38,000 cusecs.

Tahsildar Dayanand, speaking to SOM, said that the officials of the Revenue, Irrigation and Police Departments have been asked to be on high alert and take all precautionary measures to warn the people in the low-lying areas and move them to safer places. Gruel Centres will be opened in Girija Kalyana Mantap to feed the people shifted from the low lying areas, he added.

The boating in the Kapila river has been suspended and if people are found boating, the Police have been ordered to arrest them, he said. It has been raining heavily in Waynad district of Kerala and since it is the catchment area, the water flows into the Kabini reservoir.

The Kabini dam was first full on June 16.

Vinyas Innovative Technologies staff stage stir over transfers

Mysuru, July 10 (NNN)-Nearly 100 employees of Vinyas Innovative Technologies in Koorgalli Industrial area staged a night-long protest demanding withdrawal of illegal transfers of the staff to the Tirupati plant.

Speaking to SOM over phone this morning, Joint Secretary of the Union Girish said that the company has transferred some of the employees including women to Tirupati. In spite of repeated requests not to transfer them, the management has turned a deaf year to their plea.

The management was also refusing to increase the salaries of the staff though many representations were made in this regard, he said.

Hence, they were forced to resort to the agitation and sat in night-long dharna and the protest was continuing even today. They had even approached the Labour Department officials in Bengaluru and they had promised to look into the matter and visit the unit yesterday. However, none of the officials turned up, he said and added that they would continue with the agitation till their demands are met.

Meanwhile, one of the top managements of the company, speaking to SOM on condition of anonymity, said that 94 employees including women out of 300 working in the unit had been transferred to Tirupati.

They staged a night long dharna but most of the employees who were involved in the strike were back to work this morning while only a few sat in protest.

About the women employees being transferred, he said that world over women were seeking equal rights and it was very important for the company to have experienced women trainers train the staff in the Tirupati plant where a mobile phone manufacturing unit has been set up. Hence, some of them were transferred. He also alleged that one of the women union leaders backed up by CITU (Centre of Indian Trade Unions) was trying to instigate the workers.

Regarding the demand for salary hike, he said that the employees were being paid more than the industry norms and besides with just SSLC qualification they could not expect hike in salaries very fast.

Anganwadi workers protest

Hundreds of Anganwadi workers staged a demonstration in front of the DC's office in city this morning demanding fulfilment of their demands which included regularisation of job, maternity benefits and appointment of Anganwadi Helpers among others.

Lyrics of renowned poets being used improperly: Writer

Writer Dr. Gubbigoodu Ramesh (extreme right), Vijaya Vittala Educational Institutions Hon. Secretary R. Vasudev Bhat, Principal H. Sathyaprasad, District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Dr. Y.D. Rajanna, Theatre artiste Rajashekara Kadamba and Maharani's College Kannada faculty Head Dr. B.V. Vasanath Kumar seen during the G.P. Rajaratnam Kavi Kavya Namana' programme at Vijaya Vittala College in city yesterday.

Mysuru, July 10 (RKB&DM)- Regretting that lyrics of renowned poets are being used improperly in cinema songs, Writer Dr. Gubbigoodu Ramesh has bemoaned the deteriorating standard of Kannada film songs.

Speaking at 'G.P. Rajaratnam Kavi Kavya Namana' programme organised by Mysuru District Kannada Sahitya Parishat at Vijaya Vittala College premises in Saraswathipuram here yesterday, he said that sorrowful songs scripted by great poets are being turned out into romantic songs in cinemas.

Observing that G.P. Rajaratnam was a people's poet, he said that the great poet enthralled thousands of music lovers through his melodious and meaningful lyrics.

Complimenting Vijaya Vittala College for organising such a programme in memory of the great poet, Gubbigoodu Ramesh called for the organisation of more such programmes for propagating Rajaratnam's achievements as a poet and writer.

Maharani's College Kannada faculty Head Dr. B.V. Vasanath Kumar in his address, said that every Kannadiga should be proud of the language. Stating that Rajaratnam used common man's language in his works, he said that the renowned poet scripted works that sought to remove pain and bring in happiness in one's mind.

Referring to the moves to closed down Kannada schools, Vasanth Kumar expressed concern over the fate of Kannada medium, with 28,000 Kannada medium schools on the brink of closure. Vijaya Vittala Educational Institutions Hon. Secretary R. Vasudev Bhat, College Principal H. Sathyaprasad, District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Dr. Y.D. Rajanna and others were present.

Garbha dance depicted on side walls of Vithala Temple, Hampi.

Mysuru, July 10- The artistes who have come for Gujarat Utsav, which is going on at JSS Urban Haat since July 6, will be presenting traditional Gujarat dance 'Garbha' on July 11 between 6.30 pm and 8.30 pm.

Garbha or Garbo is Gujarati dance commonly performed at festivals and on other special occasions. It is a joyful style of dance, based on a circular pattern and characterised by a sweeping action from side to side. Garbha performances often include singing and a musical accompaniment traditionally provided by dhol (double-headed drum) and the similar but smaller dholak; hand clapping; and assorted metallic idiophones, such as cymbals.

Garbha celebrate fertility, honour womanhood, and pay respect to any of an array of Mother Goddesses. Garbha is celebrated during the nine-night Navratri festival. Although men may participate on some occasions, women are the typical performers of Garbha. The performers circle around an image of a Mother Goddess, such as Durga, or around a symbolic representation of her creative energy. Somashekar

Mysuru, July 10 (RK&KS)- The new Toyota Innova SUV of former MLA M.K. Somashekar, which was given to service at a showroom in Koorgalli on KRS Road in city has been stolen about a week ago.

Somashekar had purchased the new Toyota Innova (Top end model) about 15 days ago in the name of his wife Kusuma. As the vehicle had run about 1,000 kms, he (Somashekar) had sent the vehicle along with his driver to the showroom for the first service.

The driver, after reaching the showroom, handed over the keys of the vehicle to the staff and had come back. When he went in the evening to collect the vehicle, the driver did not find the vehicle and when he enquired with the Service Station Manager, the driver came to know that none of the staff knew about the vehicle. When the staff went through the CCTV footage, they saw two people standing near the vehicle and later driving away with it.

As the news of the new vehicle with only temporary registration being stolen reached Somashekar, he immediately lodged a complaint at Vijayanagar Police Station.

Vijayanagar Police, who registered a case in this regard and verified the CCTV footages, have launched a hunt to trace the vehicle through the engine and chassis number. Meanwhile, M.K. Seizure of commercial complex by Bank officials

Tenants approach High Court

Mysuru, July 10 (MTY&KS)- The tenants of a commercial complex at a junction on Vishwamanava Double Road in Saraswathipuram here, which was seized on July 4 by the officials of Vijaya Bank, Kuvempunagar Branch, following the order by the Debt Recovery Tribunal (DRT) in Bengaluru, have approached the High Court to allow them to continue their business at the complex and the hearing will be held on July 12.

M. Nagaraj, the owner of the shopping complex, which houses many shops, owed Rs.33 crore to Vijaya Bank, Kuvempunagar Branch, according to the Bank officials. As the complex owner had defaulted on repayment of loans along with accrued interest, the Bank had moved the DRT in Bengaluru for recovery of loans. The DRT, which heard the Bank's plea, issued an order directing for physical possession of immovable property mortgaged by Nagaraj for availing the loan, following which the bank officials armed with the DRT Order had seized the complex.

After the seizure, business activities of the tenants had closed down resulting in them suffering losses. Sandeep, proprietor of Mohan Bhandar, which is housed in the complex, has now approached the High Court, urging to allow them to continue with their business as they have nothing to do with the loan default.

WORD OF THE DAY

Albarello

Pronunciation: al·ba·rel·lo \ ˌal-bə-ˈre-(ˌ)lō \ noun.

Meaning: A majolica jar more or less cylindrical in form but with concave sides used originally as a container especially of drugs.

Origin: The development of this type of pharmacy jar had its roots in the Middle East during the time of the Islamic conquests. The etymology of the word is not clear. Some scholars consider the Latin word "albaris" with the meaning of "whitish" while others criticize this interpretation as such recipients were originally manufactured in wood. Parchment was white, or bleached white, so that the contents of the jar could be written upon it. The parchment would overlap the upper half of the jar in order to be affixed with a cord and properly seal the contents.

Brought to Italy by Hispano-Moresque traders, the earliest Italian examples were produced in Florence in the 15th century. Albarelli were made in Italy from the first half of the 15th century through to the late 18th century and beyond. Based on Persian designs said to emulate bamboo (the traditional manufacturing material), the jars are usually cylindrical with a slightly concave waist. Variations in size and style can be seen from region to region, ranging from 10 cm to 40 cm in height. Such jars served both functional and decorative purposes in traditional apothecaries and pharmacies, and represented status and wealth.

THE ODD WORD

Asseverate

To affirm or declare positively or earnestly.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

An albatross around one's neck

Meaning: An annoying burden. "That old car is an albatross around my neck."

Origin: Literally, an albatross is a large sea bird. A heavy burden of guilt that becomes an obstacle to success, as in The failed real estate scheme became an albatross around her neck, for now she could not interest other investors in a new project. This phrase comes from Samuel Coleridge's narrative poem, The Rime of the Ancient Mariner (1798), which is based on the widespread superstition that it is unlucky to kill this large white sea bird. In the poem a sailor does kill an albatross, and when the ship then is becalmed near the equator and runs out of water, his shipmates blame him and force him to wear the dead bird around his neck.

Silk India expo-cum-sale from tomorrow

Mysuru, July 10 (NNN)- The six-day Silk India 2018 exhibition, organised by 'Hastashilpi' as part of the Varamahalakshmi Festival, is beginning from tomorrow (July11) at Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry on Vinoba Road here. The exhibition will be open from 10.30 am to 8.30 pm till July 16.

"Various silk saree weavers, handloom clusters and Silk Co-operative Societies are showcasing their products in the exhibition. The intention of the organisation is to see that there is a direct contact between the weavers, artisans and the customers with no middleman involved," said Hastashilpi organiser T. Abhinand.

He was addressing a press conference at Pathrakartara Bhavan here yesterday and said that since the last seven years the Hastishilpi organisation has been organising the Silk India expo and it is taken to nearly 60 to 70 cities in the country.

There are five lakh customers and the well-known weavers from 18 States in the country are participating in the expo. The silk sarees ranging from Rs.1,800 to Rs.1.30 lakh will be on display and sale, he said.

In the expo held last year there was a turnover of Rs.60 lakh. As there are people from different parts of the States in the country residing in Mysuru, they prefer to buy sarees from their region and hence the response has always been good, he added.

There are more than 50 stalls selling Arini Silk sarees, crepe, Georgette and Chiffon silk sarees, Tassar silk sarees and suit, Kanjeevaram silk and wedding sarees, designer fancy, Dharmavaram, raw silk, jute, Dhaka, handloom silk cotton sarees, silk blends and stole, shawls, Uppada, Gadwal, Paithani, Mangalagiri and Pochampalli silk sarees and many more products, he said.

Inauguration: MP Pratap Simha will inaugurate the expo on July 11 at 4 pm. Dy. Mayor Indira Mahesh will be the chief guest.

Hastishilpi coordinator Srikanth was present at the press meet.
